MANY TAYLOR CHECKS TO GIRL

Miss Gerber Explains Why Her Name Appears—Money Used for Charity, She Says—Prosecution Has Doubts as to Capturing Slayer

(BY FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW)
LOS ANGELES.—(United Press).—A clue described as the most promising yet uncovered in the William Desmond Taylor murder today was expected to lead to an arrest soon.

Police refuse to divulge the nature of the new clue on which they are working, although it was believed to be connected with the theory that blackmailers murdered the film director.

The hunt for Edward F. Sands, former valet of Taylor, wanted for questioning concerning the murder, was given a new angle today. Police were given a mysterious tip that about the time Taylor was murdered, Sands visited a sweetheart in Los Angeles. A close watch on the residence of the girl was established immediately and all her movements were traced. It was reported that she was about to leave the city. Police confidently expect to find Sands thru the new information.

MISS GERBER TALKS
Neve Gerber, film actress, reported to have been engaged to Taylor, issued a statement explaining why her name appeared on many of Taylor's cancelled checks. While these developments shed light on some of the side issues of the man hunt which has now been in progress for 12 days, police admitted the clue pointing to a new suspect was the only one which held out hope for final solution of the murder mystery.

FEARS SLAYER WILL GO FREE

LOS ANGELES.—(Associated Press).—There is a "grave and serious" doubt at present as to whether the "murder" of William Desmond Taylor, film director, will ever be apprehended, declared Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, today.

Mr. Woolwine made this declaration in a statement he issued, deploring what he termed "faked and fraudulent interviews" on the case and particularly one purporting to have come from him.

"In a statement of the Examiner for Monday morning there appeared on the first page thereof an interview purporting to come from me which was never in effect given. This interview never took place and there is not a word of it that I have ever authorized to be printed, nor did I have the slightest intimation directly or indirectly, that it would be published."

MANY CASES PENDING
"There is not a sentence that contains my exact language about anything. It is composed of some things that I have uttered in substance. There are some half truths, many absolute falsehoods. I have made complaint publicly about the verdict in the Burch case, but I did not authorize any further statement about the case."

"The following quotation from the false interview was never uttered by me: 'Now when my office should be directing all its energies in the prosecution of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain in her trial before Judge Sidney N. Reeve, I have this most baffling of murder mysteries to solve, the killing of William Desmond Taylor.'"

"I would not make such a statement at this time when the Obenchain case is on trial and for the further reason that there are now pending in the office of the district attorney many hundreds of cases, which should, and do, receive attention, the Obenchain case being only one of that large number."

DECLARED VICIOUSLY FALSE
"The following language purporting to have been uttered by me is out of wholecloth and is viciously false: 'If the minds of the jurors who tried "Fatty" Arbuckle and Arthur C. Burch are the minds of the people, then I must confess that the people do not want to be protected by the laws on the statute books.'"

"The following language is also made out of wholecloth, never having been uttered or thought of by me: 'Nevertheless, I shall ferret out the criminal who killed Taylor. Nothing will stop the district attorney's office from getting at the truth and bringing to the surface the facts which led to the murder of the noted film director.'"

"The facts are that the duty of ferreting out and apprehending the perpetrator of this deed rests with the police department and I am only counselling with and advising them."

"There is grave and serious doubt

O. E. OFFICE IS LOOTED OF $700

Daring Robbery in Toledo Early Monday Morning

NOTIFY OFFICIALS HERE

Safe Ransacked; Agent Absent, at Breakfast

A band of professional yeggs is believed responsible for the daring robbery of the Ohio Electric ticket office in Toledo between 6:05 and 6:15 Monday morning, when the safe was relieved of approximately $700 in cash and checks.

Reports of the theft were received at the local offices of the Ohio Electric shortly afterward and C. W. Preble, superintendent of transportation, left immediately for the city to aid in the investigation, which is under full swing by the Toledo police department.

The ticket office is located at the intersection of Michigan and Lafayette streets. Work of the thieves in that locality baffles the protective forces, as persons enter and leave the station at all hours.

Carl Wertz, a ticket seller, left the office for breakfast after the first car departed at 6 a. m. for Lima. When he returned 10 minutes later a roar, iron barred window had been smashed and the safe looted.

After calling the police, Wertz immediately notified the Lima offices. He had not noticed any suspicious characters about the station when he left for his morning meal, he said.

2 BURN TO DEATH

Five Persons Meet Death by Violence at Toledo

TOLEDO.—(Associated Press).—Five persons met death by violence in Toledo over the week-end, according to a police check up early today which also showed a number of persons more or less seriously injured by falling on ice covered pavements.

Of the dead Mrs. Lillian H. Pearson, an inmate of the Toledo State Hospital died after setting fire to her clothing; William Rybar, 30, died after being struck by a train; a man, Frank Szepka, 45, found dead in his room after drinking liquor of his own manufacture; Mike Connell, 51, committed suicide when his wife failed to return home at a time agreed upon; and H. Brocklebank, 60, died in a hospital after being struck by an automobile.

A number of persons suffered broken limbs caused by falling on slippery pavements.

Streaks of red ran upward, and in the center of the great gray eye of the wilderness lifted its mist-fringed lid. From the green depths came the fluting of a lone wood-thrush. Thru them an owl flew on velvet wings from the heart of a primeval poplar.

Deep in the depths a boy with a bow and arrow and naked, except for scalp-locks and breech-clout, sprang from sleep and again took flight along a buffalo trail. Not far behind him, three grunting savages were taking up the print of his moccasined feet.

An hour before a red flare rose within the staked enclosure that was reared in the center of a little clearing. Before the first glimmer of day the gates yawned a little and three dim shapes moved leisurely for the woods—each man with a long flint-lock rifle in the hollow of his arm and a hunting-knife in his belt and a coon-skin cap on his head.

At either end of the stockade a watch-tower of oak became visible and in each a sleepy sentinel yawned and sniffed the welcome smell of frying venison below him.

A girl climbing the rude ladder to the tower stopped midway.

"Mornin', Dave!"

"Mornin', Polly!"

"I was comin' to wake you up," she smiled.

"I just waked up," he yawned, humming the first.

"Lyddy!" cried Polly, "bring Dave's breakfast!"

At the fire a tall girl rose, pushed a mass of sunburned hair from her heated forehead and a flush not from the fire fused with her smile.

"I reckon Dave can walk this far—he don't look very puny."

A voice vibrant with sarcasm rose from one of the women about the steaming kettle.

"Honor!" she cried, "Honor Sanders!"

In a doorway near, a third girl was framed—deep-eyed, deep-breasted.

CABINET PLAN IS CONDEMNED

Lowers Ohio Health Board Standard, Association Says

"POLITICS IS INTERFERING"

Declares Other Departments Are Also Hindered

COLUMBUS.—(Associated Press).—Assertion that the first seven months of operation under the reorganization code has resulted in a lowering of standards and political interference with policies of the state health administration is made in a bulletin issued today by the Ohio Public Health association.

The "cabinet" plan is condemned and return to the bi-partisan system of control is urged.

"Appointments made to the staff of the state department of health since July 1, have not met the previous standards of physical, mental and technical qualifications," the bulletin says, adding that what is true in regard to the health department is equally applicable to the department of welfare and partially true of the department of education.

Dr. H. H. Sively is not criticized in the bulletin, assertion being made that he is "conscientious in his attitude toward responsibilities placed upon the department by the health laws of the state."

Political influence, it is asserted, oftentimes causes health department rulings to be reversed.

GIRL "INSPIRED" BY TAYLOR

Miss Minter Tells of Admiration For Director

(BY MARY MILES MINTER)
LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(United Press).—There is no personal or financial sacrifice I would not gladly make to bring the slayer of William Desmond Taylor to justice, Mr. Taylor was one of my best friends.

His death was a great shock to me.

I met Mr. Taylor first in 1919, when he became my director. I was then 17 years of age and his inspiration, his unflinching courage, his consideration, not only to me, but to all with whom he came in contact immediately won my highest admiration.

From 1919 until the day of his death, Mr. Taylor was to me a symbol of honor and manliness—a symbol of all that a girl admires in a man. His friendship was uplifting, his advice invaluable. It would be nothing less than ingratitude, if I did not, now that he is dead, raise my voice to proclaim what he was, to repudiate those who would besmirch his character.

I have told the authorities all I know of both his life here and in the east. That, I fear, has been of little aid to them.

I cannot conceive the character of the person who would voluntarily wrong Mr. Taylor, or cause his death.

MAKE GOOD WIVES WORD WAR BREAKS IN CHURCH

Have Requisites of Womanly Woman, She Declares

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.—(Special).—"American girls of 1922 are better fitted to become the mothers of the race than the girls of any previous generation."

This is the opinion of Dean Ella McCabe of Vassar College.

Miss McCabe has held an executive position at Vassar for the past 37 years and during the entire period has been in close touch with the girl students.

Girls who attend Vassar come from every part of the country. Many come with the habit of satin slippers and gossamer stockings in winter; bare knees, bobbed hair and touched-up lips. They come 15-year-old flappers, with just the odd exaggerations which you see every day on the street.

And Dean McCabe wears no rose-colored glasses when she considers them. Yet she says of the girls of today:

"America has never had a finer set of mothers-and-wives-in-the-making than today's girls."

"They are not flippant."

"They are not hardened or coarsened."

"They are not less modest."

"They are above all things neither lazy nor selfish."

"The three prime requisites of the fine womanly woman are: 'FIRST—Honesty. 'SECOND—Purpose. 'THIRD—Sympathy.'"

"The average girl of 1922 possesses those qualities."

Found Sunday Afternoon In Granary, Near St. Johns, Only Few Miles From Wapakoneta—Probe of Inside Aid In Getaway Conducted by Officials

Made Effort to Reach Lima After Sensational Coup, But Became Confused and Wandered Back to Wapakoneta Saturday Night—Near Frozen When Found

Developments at 2 p. m. Monday, in connection with the escape of Harold Nierengarten from the Auglaize-co jail, indicated that he was aided thru carelessness, at the jail, according to statements credited to the boy murderer.

Pressed for an explanation of the manner in which he made his escape, Nierengarten is reported to have stated Monday afternoon, in the presence of Wapakoneta newspapermen, that he used the jail keys; that they had been left on the ledge of the grub hole in the prison door Thursday night.

Using the keys to let himself out of the jail into the corridor, Nierengarten says he awaited an opportunity and made a dash for liberty after the outer door had been opened for the purpose of passing breakfast inside to the prisoners. Nierengarten is quoted as having said it was not the first time the keys had been left in the opening of the door at night. His cell door was not locked Thursday night, he asserted.

Despite exposure, the physical condition of the prisoner is not threatening, physicians say. He contracted a cold, but pneumonia is not feared, they say.

After 56 hours of freedom, Harold Nierengarten, 20, confessed slayer of Joseph Scott Kershaw, Lima world war veteran, who escaped from the Auglaize-co jail at Wapakoneta Friday at 7:30 a. m., was captured in a granary on the Lida Ralston farm, one and a half miles south of St. Johns, Sunday at 5 p. m.

That he had assistance from the inside of the jail in making his escape, now patent. Duplicate wooden keys, incomplete, were found on Nierengarten's person. It admits, however, that they did not aid him in escaping from the jail, but that the original keys were left on the ledge of the grub hole in the jail door and that he used them.

Nierengarten, up to noon Monday, steadfastly refused to incriminate others in aiding him to effect a getaway. A thorough probe is being conducted by Sheriff Ewing and Prosecuting Attorney Karl Timmermeister.

FOUND IN GRAIN BIN

Half frozen after crouching in the grain bin since 3 a. m. Sunday, Nierengarten submitted docilely to arrest and now is safely secured in a separate cell in the county jail at Wapakoneta.

Clarence Lhaman, tenant on the Ralston farm, found him. Shortly before 4 p. m. he went to the granary to hunt eggs. While searching about he saw a large tarpaulin in the oats bin. Its presence there surprised Lhaman and he picked up one edge of it to investigate. As he did so, it moved. Startled, he ran to the home of M. L. McDougale, across the road. He informed the latter he had an opossum cornered and wanted his help in capturing it.

They returned to the granary and found the tarpaulin as Lhaman left it. Jerking it aside, the fugitive limped out, scarcely able to walk, because of frosted feet. He was assisted to Lhaman's house and fed, according to the story told by Lhaman.

They went several fast wordy rounds in the pupil of Dr. Stratton's church on the question of whether actors are more sinful than other people. During the debate, which was staged and advertised in advance, the church echoed with hisses, groans, yells and cheers from the opposing factions—but the ministers' adherents made more noise than the theatrical people.

"There are more ministers in jail than stage people," Brady cried, as the discussion waxed hot and yells of "throw him out" came from the congregation.

"More murders are committed by church men than by actors," Brady charged.

Dr. Stratton said 17,000 words about stage wickedness, among those he named being Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Charles Chaplin.

When Brady spoke in defense of "poor little Mary Pickford," there was so much noise in the church, cheers and jeers, his voice was almost inaudible.

Afterwards Brady and Stratton shook hands.

CHAIN OF GOOD ROADS PLANNED

All County Seats of Ohio to be Linked in Near Future

ROAD MEN ASSEMBLE HERE

Enthusiasm for Durable Highways is Produced

County seats of Ohio will be connected with a chain of good roads at the close of the road building program of 1922, according to announcement made by J. P. Schumaker, division engineer of the state highway department, Monday.

Schumaker was the principal speaker at the annual meeting of township trustees and commissioners of Allen Co., held in the court of appeals rooms at the court house, Monday. More than 60 attended.

Walter R. Toy, county surveyor, presided. C. T. Craig of the surveyor's office, was secretary. E. T. Lippincott, prosecuting attorney, attended in the capacity of legal adviser.

POLICY IS CHANGED

Schumaker changed of a change of policy in the state highway department within the last year. He emphasized altering of width of roads from 12 to 14 feet, the former measurements, to 16 feet. Then, he asserted, the government interfered and refused federal aid in cases only where the road was 18 feet in width.

The depth of construction has changed too, Schumaker said. Instead of the road which was built six inches in depth, now a depth of 11 inches is required. Schumaker said the cheapest type of road was found under the new arrangement.

"It was formerly the custom of a county commissioner to secure a state road near his farm," Schumaker said. "Then the two other commissioners would do likewise. It was a strip here and a little bit there. But it had its good purpose, at that. It attracted people to the necessity of hard-surfaced roads," he said.

Allen Co. will be especially benefited this year because it is located on an east and west and a north and south road. Schumaker said that it was formerly so that a start might be made on a good road and a poor one could be encountered when the traveler was out a little ways. With the program in contemplation this year, tourists may be assured that good roads will be constructed to link up all county seats.

ALLEN CO IS FAVORED

"Allen Co. is better off than probably any other county in the state this year," Schumaker declared. "With $400,000 for her credit for a road-building program, she is excelled by no other county in the state in the amount of money at command."

Every county is entitled to $400,000 a year for the building of inter-county highways, whether it is used or not.

"Every county is entitled to $2,000 for a repair fund for roads which have been depreciated through traffic detoured from main roads," he asserted. He advised township trustees to consult with Surveyor Toy and to make use of this fund, probably on a 50-50 basis.

Schumaker announced that Allen Co. construction of a state road for sale on February 28 and another the third week in March.

He advised that as soon as it is known fully construction of roads is to be undertaken, commissioners advertise for bond bids. "By the time the estimates are back, money for the bonds are assured by the county auditor," Schumaker said.

LEGATIVITY QUESTIONED

Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Lippincott declared he feared to block practice of the bond resolution, if this practice was adhered to, and that bond purchasers might refuse the lot, if title was clouded.

Chairman Toy declared he thought it necessary to speed up preliminary arrangements for disposal of bonds so that early construction work could be started.

C. F. Rudisill, member of the Ohio Good Roads Federation, was to address the assembly, Monday afternoon. "Distinction Between County and Township Roads" was to be his subject.

In the early morning Chairman Toy was in charge of a question box, in which various road matters were discussed.

BANKS GUARDED

INDIANA, Penn.—Acting on the suggestion of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association that banks should be carefully guarded, the five banks of Indiana have united in the employment of Harry Lytle, expert rifleman, to patrol the streets in which they are located. It was announced here today.

FAIR, COLDER LINGER LONGER

Flated over the success of his predictions during the past few days, affecting the state of the weather, the forecaster has taken on a new courage and confidently asserts that generally fair weather is to continue tonight and Tuesday, but 'twill be colder, he hastens to add.

Predicting weather conditions is not unlike picking the winners in a political campaign. Generally, one never knows exactly what is going to happen until it has happened. And then it's too late to change it.

St. Valentine day comes tomorrow, but it hasn't anything to do with the weather, save to reflect the program arranged. It's a cinch, then, the cocky little groundhog knacker his business when he sneezed back into his hibernating quarters on February 2, to remain in hiding for six more weeks.

HOTEL IS HELD UP

$100,000 in Jewelry Taken in St. Louis Robbery

ST. LOUIS.—(Associated Press.)—Jewelry estimated by the hotel management to be valued at $100,000 was obtained by bandits who early today looted safely deposit boxes at the Washington hotel in the west end section of the city. H. A. Crofton, night clerk, was forced to open the safe.

The jewelry was the property of guests and the exact value will not be determined until the guesses list their losses.

The bandits also obtained $900 in cash and $1,015 in checks from the cash drawer. They escaped after compelling Crofton and an elevator operator to lie on the floor.

Carl Sork who was involved in the baseball scandal but later exonerated, resided at the hotel. He said his losses were $750.

Two bandits looted the boxes while one guarded the elevator and another acted as "lookout" outside, police were told.

NEW GROUPS OF SUN SPOTS ARE DISCOVERED

WASHINGTON.—New groups of sun spots, reported to have been discovered Saturday at Miami by Dr. David Todd, former director of the Amherst observatory, have been under observation for several days at the naval observatory here. Astronomers at the big government institution declared today they had found four groups of the new spots, two on Wednesday and the others Friday.

The astronomers were unwilling to predict auroral displays or telegraphic disturbances as a result of the solar outbursts, but if any such do occur, they said, they may be looked for tonight. The two spots found Wednesday were too far west of the solar meridian to cause terrestrial trouble; but the large and small groups seen Friday will reach meridian today. It is when sun spots appear on the solar meridian, it was said, that their influence is felt on the earth.

Upon the last occasion in November when sun spots caused electric disturbances on the earth, brilliant auroral displays were seen for several days and telegraphic and telephone services were badly crippled in several portions of the world.

PROBE INTO STRIKE BATTLE IS CONTINUED

YORKVILLE.—Investigators representing Governor Davis continued today their inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the death of Elmer Kost, a striking mill worker who was shot to death in the street here last Wednesday morning. Two men, guards at the plant of the Wheeling Steel Corporation, are in jail at Steubenville, the county seat, in connection with the shooting.

Striking mill workers today said that a crowd of workmen brought here to take the places of former employees had left the mill and returned to their homes in McKeesport. There was no disorder, but Sheriff Edward Lucas and a force of deputy sheriffs continued on duty in the streets within a number of mill guards were still within the enclosure at the plant.

LUCK BLAMED FOR HIS TROUBLE

Chicago Wizard Short $4,500,000 in Accounts

CHICAGO.—(Associated Press.)—Raymond J. Bischoff, under detention in connection with an admitted shortage of $4,500,000 as a result of financial dealings with approximately 5,000 residents of the Chicago "back of the yard" district, blamed a lucky deal with a friend's $250 for the continued transactions which have involved him so heavily.

"A friend begged me to play the market with his money, saying his creditors were pushing him," Bischoff was quoted as having said. "I consented, doubling his money in a week. He told all his friends and I immediately was besieged with similar requests. That was the beginning of it."

"Debbling" in oil led to his present plight, he was quoted as saying. After visions of big financial deals arose when he found how easy it was to have others give him their money to invest.

Bischoff's attorney maintains that the 25-year-old "Wizard of Rubby Creek" has violated no law in his dealings, except the shortage of millions. Bischoff gave promissory notes for the money invested with him, the attorney said, adding "a man can't be imprisoned for non-payment of promissory notes if he hasn't the money."

Creditors may realize ten cents on the dollar, the attorney said. "I became interested in the oil stock last February," Bischoff said. "I kept putting more and more money in it until by July I thought I owned every share in existence. But then I discovered a powerful company was fighting to get the stock back. I was fighting for an hour and a half. I found that I had been duped. I had been buying duplicates shares. For the last few months I have been fighting a losing battle."

BUSINESS TURN IS DUE MARCH 27

Babson Expert Sees Improvement Within Short Time

This country will begin to turn the corner of business depression the last week in March, George D. McIlwain, director of the labor department of Roger Babson's statistical organization, declared in an interview with a Lima News reporter Monday. McIlwain, who is on a speaking tour in the west, delivered an address before the Rotary club Monday noon.

"There is a tendency for business conditions to improve in some parts of the country, notably in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and other New England states," he stated. "New York and New Jersey are on the upward trend. You folks out here in Ohio and other midwestern and western states will not begin to improve until later," he declared.

McIlwain assigned two reasons why this section will not experience a reaction as quickly as some of the other parts. The hindrance to betterment, he said, is that there is too great dependence on the auto business, for which there is no demand at present, and diminished purchasing power of farmers.

Toward the middle of summer when farmers begin to harvest new crops, the improvement will begin. In the last four months of 1922 the upward trend will be gradual, but there will at no time in 1923 be a business boom, Mr. McIlwain asserted.

SPENCERVILLE MAN IS RECOVERING FROM INJURY

Mrs. George Wolf, Spencerville R. D. No. 3, returned Sunday night from Dayton, Ky., where she was called on February 2 on account of serious injuries suffered by her son, Stanley Wolf, 32, who fell from a bridge.

Wolf was working with a bridge gang on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. The pelvis was fractured and he sustained injuries to his arms and head.

Mrs. Wolf left him somewhat improved. Wolf is in a hospital in Dayton.

RATE HEARING OPENS

COLUMBUS.—The first application filed by the Ohio Bell Telephone company for the fixing of rates under unified telephone services in Ohio was heard by the state public utilities commission today. Rates are to be established for service under the combined Bell and Ohio State systems, unified into one system, at Lancaster and Rossville.

MISSING LIMA GIRLS LOCATED AT UNIOPOLIS

Mary Cole and Olive Pearson, aged 14, missing since Wednesday of last week from the Allen Co. Children's home, were located Sunday night at the home of Charles Naus, Uniopolis, according to police. They were taken there by a woman giving the name of Mrs. Nunamaker. Holmes-ave, Lima, who said she had been harboring the girls, it is asserted.

They will be returned to the Children's Home.

5-YEAR PROGRAM IS URGED

Resolutions Presented Before County Good Roads Meeting

Resolutions asking that the county commissioners and township trustees outline a five-year program for road construction and maintenance were presented to Allen Co. road officials, in session at the court house Monday morning.

The resolution was endorsed by the Allen Co. Good Roads council and Lima Chapter of American Association of Engineers Saturday.

President Joe Hartline, of the roads council, presented the matter to the road men. Favorable action was promised.

A five-year state aid road program has already been outlined, but nothing has been done toward making up a schedule for the county and township roads.

The two will levy passed by the legislators to help the farmer on the back roads cannot be spent on inter-county or main market highways. The money could, however, be expended on purely county roads that would link up the state and federal aid projects.

ALLEN CO ENTITLED TO BIG SUM IN ROAD AID, FROM STATE AND U. S.

Allen Co. is entitled to $332,150 in federal and state aid money on roads that have already been approved by the state highway department, according to Joe Hartline, president of the Allen Co. Good Roads council.

The amount available, Hartline states, is the allotment made to this county in a bulletin issued by Leon C. Herrick, state highway commissioner.

Failure to file plans for federal aid roads last year cost the county $209,000, he said. This year, however, blueprints and specifications for most of the roads have been sent to Columbus and have been approved.

The money will be distributed as follows:

DENBY PROPOSES NAVAL CUT

Recommends Personnel be Reduced to 90,000 Men

DROPS 100 DESTROYERS

Will Save $70,000,000 Next Year, He Declares

WASHINGTON (Associated Press) — Secretary Denby appeared before the house naval committee today to recommend that the navy personnel for the next fiscal year be fixed at 90,000 men and 6,000 apprentices as compared with 100,000 men and 6,000 apprentices now authorized.

Mr. Denby recommended that there be no reduction in the existing strength of line officers of the navy; that the first class at Annapolis be graduated and commissioned but that appointments to the Academy hereafter be reduced to three for each member of congress instead of five.

REDUCTION SHOWN
The naval secretary recommended that 100 destroyers be placed out of commission. He estimated that the program he outlined would effect a saving of $70,000,000 in next year's budget.

Secretary Denby's statement pointed out that since 1919 the war-time naval establishment had been reduced from 1,352 vessels in commission to 300, the commissioned personnel from 32,708 to 6,153, and the enlisted force from 450,723 to 100,990.

"It is not easy," he said, "to get back to normalcy from such vast expansion."

Mr. Denby said the net result of the naval limitation conference today is that Great Britain is to have 22 capital ships, the United States 18 and Japan 10, there being no limitation on auxiliary combat craft except as to the size and armament of future vessels.

When the conference opened, Mr. Denby said, the United States had 46 battleships, 35 cruisers, 317 destroyers, 148 submarines, 197 auxiliary craft and 164 "mosquito fleet" vessels.

QUESTION COMPLICATED
"By the terms of the treaty," he said, "the United States has to be maintaining 18 battleships, 316 destroyers, 33 cruisers, 147 submarines, 196 auxiliaries and 152 small vessels. It is clear that no definite conclusion as to the future strength of the United States navy should be reached until ratification by the senate of the pending treaty because we will not know absolutely until then that the treaty will become effective. This complicates the question of personnel."

Mr. Denby described the status of the fleet in commission today showing that battleships carry about 84 per cent complement, destroyers from fifty to eighty per cent and submarines from 40 per cent up.

"It is quite clear that the navy in enlisted and commissioned personnel both is undermanned today," he said.

"It is clear in your mind undoubtedly that the rule applied in apportioning of vessels in the different navies (under the treaty) was what was called the 'navies needed for national safety' and the results were arrived at after a most careful study of the situations confronting each nation."

The secretary said figures on personnel he presented were based on that assumption and his belief that the navy could not "dispense with any of its present personnel" with the exception of the reduction in enlisted strength of 10,000 men here recommended.

PARTY OF JOYRIDERS DITCHED NEAR YODER; TWO MEN ARE FINED

Four Lima men whom local police and Sheriff Charles Baxter state were enjoying a liquor party in an automobile, brought up in a ditch along a road near Yoder, five miles from Lima, Sunday afternoon. Two of them escaped before arrival of the officers. H. Nicholson, 41, and George Finn, 40, both of 1068 Forrest-ave, were captured.

A charge of driving an auto while intoxicated was lodged against Finn in Judge Emmett Jackson's court, Monday morning. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and was sentenced to ten days in jail. Nicholson was fined $25 for being drunk. Both were remanded to the county jail.

Sheriff Baxter, Chief of Police Dawson and Motor Cop Dick Watkins rounded them up after a Yoder resident phoned police headquarters that the quartette was making the which ring with loud and ribald songs.

LAST TIME IN PRINT—MAYBE

The above picture is of Mrs. M. Fine of Chicago.

Ever see it before? Whether you did or not, take a good look now—for this is the last time it's to be printed—maybe!

At least Mrs. Fine's husband hopes so.

Why? Well, just because When Mrs. Fine was little she was pretty. As she grew she became beautiful. Photographers delighted in snapping her, and her face soon became familiar in many ads.

Friend husband found her staring him in the face from calendars, soap wrappers, street car ads and billboards.

Now he's peeved. "Never wants to see it again," he declares.

"Tell the world I never got a dime out of it. I support my own wife."

So glance at the 'ad girl' before she ceases to appear.

LID TO BE CLAMPED ON COUNTY FAIR

Shutdown on All Forms of Gambling Planned

BOYS ASSOCIATION TO ACT

Meeting Will be Held at Cincinnati Soon

CINCINNATI—(Associated Press) A concerted drive to rid county fairs in Ohio of all forms of games of chance and gambling, is to be started soon, it was announced here today by Myers Y. Cooper, president of the Ohio Fair Boys Association.

A meeting is to be called, he said, within the near future, to lay plans, predicated on the adoption of a resolution at the last annual meeting of the Fair Boys, urging a shutdown on gambling at county fairs. The meeting probably will be held here.

The movement is to be taken up in connection with the state board of agriculture, by a committee appointed by Mr. Cooper.

The resolution, the real import of which, Mr. Cooper said, "is to shut down on all games of chance and gambling in every form on county fair grounds," follows:

RESOLUTION DRAWS
"Recognizing that concessions have a direct bearing on attendance as well as being an important method of financing the fair, the committee on standardization of concessions recommend that concessionaires properly accredited shall be encouraged.

"The committee also recognized that there are many concessions now permitted on fair grounds that are lowering the standard of fairs, and that are seriously detracting from the real value of exhibits.

"To the end that all concessions shall be on a par with the purpose of the fair, we recommend that the Ohio Fair Boys' Association approve a recommendation to the state board of agriculture, to license concessionaires under a plan to be worked out by the department of agriculture, and a committee of the Ohio Fair Boys Association."

W. J. BRYAN TO RUN FOR U.S. SENATE

Will Seek to Represent Florida in Upper House

BECOMES CITIZEN IN APRIL

Makes His Legal Residence in Southern State

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)

WASHINGTON—(United Press) —Early announcement of William J. Bryan's candidacy for the United States senate is expected by his friends in Washington, it was made known today.

Bryan is expected to seek the seat now occupied by Senator Park Trammell of Florida. Trammell, a Democrat, is completing his first term and will seek re-nomination and re-election.

The Bryan is regarded as a Nebraskan, he will acquire citizenship in Florida early in April. By that time he will have complied with the law requiring a year's residence in the state as a prerequisite to voting.

NEBRASKA TOO WET
For many years Bryan's chief ambition has been the senate. He has always preferred it, even to the presidency, because of the unusual freedom of action it offers. But as a Nebraskan, Bryan could not take the Democratic nomination for the senate, because the Nebraska democracy was about as "wet" as Bryan was "dry."

Nine or ten years ago Bryan bought property in Florida and has lived there at times since. About a year ago, he established his home there and has lived there contentedly except when on lecture tours or speaking engagements.

OPINIONS SOUGHT
On a recent visit to Washington, Bryan conferred with Senator Fletcher, Florida, and other friends concerning the Florida senatorial situation. Bryan, they said, apparently was trying to get their opinion how his candidacy would be received, as it would precipitate a contest in the Florida democracy.

Trammell, the sitting senator, has proved acceptable and if Bryan does not enter the campaign, probably will not be opposed for his second term nomination.

LIQUOR CHARGES AGAINST FOUR PENDING IN COURT

Due to inability of City Solicitor Paul T. Landis to get around to the cases four alleged liquor violators are still awaiting trial in criminal court. Three of them have been pending since December. They are: Joe Janski, Joe Durr and George Wallace, charged with violation of the Crabbie Act.

No date has been set for the trial of Joe Miller, whose suite above the Fiat auto service station on E. Spring-st was raided February 3 and a large quantity of illicit liquor and raw materials confiscated, according to police.

William Prosser, E. Wayne-st grocer, found guilty two weeks ago of possessing intoxicating liquor, filed a motion for re-trial, but a decision has not been given.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Recall and promotion to a position of greater responsibility in the State Highway department may result from a conference Tuesday between Leon C. Herrick, state highway head and J. P. Shumaker, Lima division engineer, it was learned Monday.

Shumaker, while in charge of the division, established headquarters in Lima and has succeeded in laying plans for completing the largest state aid road program in the county's history during the coming summer.

Chinese Tong War Breaks Out in Western States

FIERCE BATTLE IN STREETS

Fights Staged at Seattle, Butte, Mont., and San Jose

SAN FRANCISCO — (Associated Press) — Chinese Tong men throughout the west were reported under cover or on their guard today as the result of an apparent outbreak of a Tong war last night when two Chinese were killed and a third wounded in Seattle, Wash., one slain in Butte, Mont., and one shot probably fatally in San Jose, Cal.

In every instance the shootings were carried out in characteristic Tong war fashion, police reports indicated. In Butte and in Seattle the Chinese said to have belonged to Tong, were shot down on the street.

Seattle police made five arrests in connection with the shooting. Low Now, 72, said he is the only member of the Hong Kong Tong in San Jose, was met at his door, according to a police report, by three young Chinese who fired three bullets into his body.

While San Francisco has the largest Chinatown and is headquarters for most of the Tong, no trouble had been reported here early today. OUTBREAK AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, WASH. — (Associated Press) — Two Chinese are dead, another lies badly wounded in a hospital and five others are in the city jail as the result of a Tong war which broke out here late last night. Toy Jow, 40, and Hong Sang, 30, both cannery workers and members of the Hing Sing Tong, were killed and an Englishman known in Chinatown as "The Duke," also of the Hing Sing Tong, was shot thru the thigh. Eight pistols and nearly 100 cartridges were seized by the police.

25,000 ON STRIKE

New England Textile Workers Quit—Protest Wage Cut

BOSTON — (United Press) — Approximately 25,000 textile workers employed in mills in New Hampshire and Massachusetts went on strike today in protest against a 20 per cent wage reduction.

Early reports received here from New Hampshire indicated the strike was 100 per cent effective there.

At Manchester, N. H., it was estimated 15,000 workers walked out. With 15,000 operatives already out in Rhode Island, today's walk-out swelled the total to 40,000 on strike in New England.

Only one city in Massachusetts was affected by the walkout early today. At this city, Lowell, approximately 3,000 workers failed to report for work.

OVERTIME PAY IS DISCONTINUED

Labor Board Rules on Rail Signal Men's Wages

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Discontinuation of railway signal men's overtime pay by a ruling of the United States railroad labor board, added impetus to the proposed "defense alliance" of the railroad and mine workers today.

The railroad board, in a decision, overruled the working agreements allowing overtime for all work after eight hours.

In the future overtime will only be paid after ten hours' work, although eight hours still remains as the basic day. The regular rate is also to be paid for Sunday and holiday work.

D. W. Holt, head of the Brotherhood of Switchmen, was the first of the railroad union officials to accept the invitation of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America for a conference between rail and mine workers, looking toward an alliance to combat wage slashes. This conference will be held here February 21.

The railroad board will soon announce changes in working rules for firemen, train dispatchers, and express employees.

MUMAUGH'S AUTO STOLEN AND HIS HOME ENTERED BY THIEVES SAME NIGHT

Trouble comes in bunches for E. W. Mumaugh, general contractor, Kilmarnock, building. When he returned home Saturday night, after vigorous employment of the telephone in notifying police departments in other cities of the theft of his Nash touring car, he found the house had been entered. Mumaugh's machine stolen from W. Wayne-st. in front of the Moose Temple, was recovered Sunday morning by police near Fourth-st. between S. Pine and Main-sts. abandoned in a field. It was not damaged. Joyriders are thought to have taken the car for a spin.

It was the fourth auto stolen from Mumaugh. All were taken by joyriders, except an Overland two years ago. Thieves took that one "for keeps," but luckily for the owner they brought up in a ditch. The four machines were recovered by police.

"DRY ERA HERE TO STAY"—WHEELER

Anti-Saloon Head Hits Back At Critic in House

"MILLIONS WISELY SPENT"

Law Enforcement Made Difficult by Opposition, He Says

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, struck back today at Representative James G. Sullivan, of Boston, who assailed prohibition enforcement in a house speech the other day.

Mr. Wheeler, asserting that prohibition is here to stay, and that "all of the wet organizations cannot galvanize into life the dead body of John Barleycorn," declared that the Massachusetts congressman was wrong in his conclusions about enforcement.

"Mr. Sullivan's plea," Mr. Wheeler said, "over the increased arrests for drunkenness in 1921 will change to woe when he compares the last full wet year for Boston and the entire state with 1921."

"The expenditure of $250,000 for enforcement by the prohibition department would be wise if not one dollar were returned to the federal government in fines, penalties, taxes and forfeited bonds. When we consider that practically every dollar of it is returned to the government from penalties and forfeited taxes collected from the outlawed liquor dealers and that $55,000,000 of prohibitive taxes have been assessed but not yet collected by the treasury department no one interested in the finances of the government will be disturbed."

ALL LAWS VIOLATED

"No one claims that the prohibition law is completely enforced. Neither is any other criminal law lawfully enforced. The organized underworld dealers, encouraged by the utterances of Mr. Sullivan and other liquor champions, make it difficult to enforce the law."

Mr. Wheeler made public resolutions adopted by the commissioners of the city of Cheyenne, Wyo., protesting against the effort in the Chicago city council to repeal prohibition for wine and beer legislation.

The resolution expressed the "faith" of the Cheyenne commissioners in the "ultimate success of the present law if it is not weakened."

MAY DROP BONUS TAX PLAN

Republicans Now Believed Turning to Bond Issue

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — The idea of financing the soldier bonus thru a short-time bond flotation is gaining converts in congress.

Senator Smoot, who Saturday told President Harding the country would not stand for the tax methods, declared to the United Press today his belief that the house "bonus conferees had swung to his advocacy of the bond plan. Harding was understood to be leaning at early conference with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon on the bonus. Business, Smoot said, could not stand more taxes.

Smoot ventured the opinion that the proposed tax method would be shelved and a bond issue substituted. This is despite administration objection.

Republicans of the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee continued their deliberations over the ways and means committee's tax scheme, and the new bond issue.

The tax scheme has provoked a tremendous wave of opposition from all over the country.

Big business, agriculture, the average man, were all represented in the "howl." A protest so mighty that some senators believed the bonus would die in transit if congress persisted in trying to pay the bonus thru taxes of business and individuals.

WAGE SCALE FOR MINERS FRAMED

Will be Presented to Convention Tomorrow

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — (Associated Press) — The wage policy of the United Mine Workers of America, apparently certain to oppose any wage reduction in seeking new agreements with operators effective April 1, was considered today by the union's scale committee, whose report will be the main business for the union's special convention that meets here tomorrow.

All twenty-seven district presidents of the union, forming the scale committee were here, for passing finally on their meeting, the meeting being scheduled for the afternoon after a preliminary report had been framed by a sub-committee in the morning. Members of the sub-committee had practically agreed upon their report but its formal drafting remained incomplete when the members went in Detroit. An announcement was made of committee decisions and committeemen said none would be made until the report was presented formally to the convention.

In addition to the committee work leaders of the miners had conferences planned with E. C. Grabbe, of Detroit, and other officers of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees and Railway Shop Laborers on the proposed alliance of union mine and rail workers to oppose wage cuts affecting either class of workers. Representatives of six local unions, with a combined membership of two million men, have been called by President John L. Lewis of the miners' union to meet at Chicago February 21, to discuss the alliance proposal and Mr. Grabbe on his arrival here predicted that some form of understanding would result from the Chicago meeting.

PIN IN GIRL'S LUNGS TO BE SOUGHT FIFTH TIME

PHILADELPHIA — Ten-year-old Louise Olfenstein of Wichita, Kansas, upon whom four operations have been performed in an effort to remove a pin lodged in her lungs, will undergo another within a few days.

After the fourth attempt to extract the pin by surgeons in her home city had proved unsuccessful, she was brought to the Jefferson hospital here by her mother. Dr. Chevalier Jackson, professor of laryngology at the Jefferson Medical College, expects to operate on the child the last of this week.

The girl swallowed the pin while playing with dolls. Mrs. George Olfenstein, her mother, said she stood the journey from Kansas well.

You May Be Starving In The Midst of Plenty

To Be Plump, Radiant and Attractive Your Body Cells Must Extract Every Particle of Nourishment from the Food You Eat.

TANLAC ASSISTS NATURE IN THIS AS NOTHING ELSE CAN

THE wondrous grace of softly blending curves, the enchantment of virile, pliant flesh, the lure of dimpling skin and the irresistible magnetism of a body radiant with health and energy give to the normally filled-out woman an attractiveness and charm that is denied to her thin, angular, ungraceful sisters.

But, fortunately, emaciation is never natural. It is always the result of starvation. No matter how much the very thin person may be in the habit of eating, and no matter how excellent her food may be, she is in a half-starved condition. It is not the quantity made use of by the body, that counts. When digestion is incomplete, or when the assimilative organs fail in their duties, one may starve in the midst of plenty.

What, then, should the thin, angular woman or man do to obtain real nourishment from food?

This query has been answered by hundreds of thousands of people who have found that the use of the famous reconstructive tonic—Tanlac—so tones up and invigorates the whole digestive system, as well as the other vital organs of the body, as to promptly end the condition.

Improvement becomes noticeable at once. The appetite becomes keen and healthy, color grows into faded cheeks, sparkle returns to dull eyes, energy replaces lassitude and the un-tem into normal condition and Nature then builds the body to be the thing of grace and beauty and virile efficiency that it was intended to be. You will learn the truth of this by trying Tanlac.

Purchase Tanlac from any druggist. Do it today, and make a start toward health and greater beauty. Tanlac is sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Store and by the leading druggist in every town.

ERSKINE DALE PIONEER

by JOHN FOX, Jr.

looked at the oozing drops of blood he gave a startled oath, for he saw a flash of white under the loosened breech-clout below. The boy understood. Quickly he pushed the clout aside on his thigh that all might see, nodded gravely, and proudly tapped his breast.

"Taleface!" he half grunted, "white man!"

The wilds were quiet. The boy pointed to them and held up three fingers to indicate that there were only three red men there. Some one he heard to say there would be no attack from them.

"What's your name?" The boy shook his head and looked eagerly around.

"Francis—French?" he asked, and in turn the big woodsman shook his head—nobody there spoke French.

However, Dave knew a little Shawnee, a good deal of the sign language, and the boy seemed to understand a good many words in English; so that the big woodsman pieced out his story with considerable accuracy.

The Indians had crossed the Big River, were as many as the leaves, and meant to attack the whites. For the first time they had allowed the Indian boys to take refuge within the fort. There was no settler that was not accustomed to a soft tapping on the wooden windows that startled him wide awake. Then there was the noiseless awakening of the children—the mere whisper of "Indians" was enough to keep them quiet—and the noiseless slipping thru the wilderness for the oak-picketed stockade.

And the gathering-in was none too soon. The howling of owls started before dawn. A flaming arrow hissed from the woods, thudded into the roof of one of the cabins, spluttered feebly on a dew-drenched ridge-pole, and went out. Savage war-whoops rent the air, and the battle was on. All day the fight went on.

The stranger boy sat stoically in the center of the enclosure watching everything, and making no effort to take part, except twice when he saw a gigantic Indian brandishing his rifle at the edge of the woods, encouraging his companions behind, and each time he granted and begged for a gun. Dave made out that the Indian was the one who had treated the boy cruelly and that the lad was after a personal revenge.

A last sally was made just before sunset. A body pushed against Dave in the tower and Dave saw the stranger boy at his side with his bow and arrow. A few minutes later he heard a yell from the lad which rang high over the din, and he saw the feathered tip of an arrow sticking in the breast of the big Indian who staggered and fell behind a bush. Just at that moment there were yells from the woods behind—the yells of white men that were answered by joyful yells within the fort.

"The Virginians! The Virginians!" And as the rescuers dashed into sight on horse and afoot, Dave saw the lad leap the wall of the stockade and disappear behind the fleeing Indians.

"Gone back to 'em," he grunted to himself. The gates were thrown open. Old Jerome and his men rushed out and besieged and rescuers hurried all their fire after the running Indians, some of whom turned bravely to empty their rifles once more.

"Git in! Git in, quick!" yelled old Joel. He knew another volley would come as soon as the Indians reached the cover of thick woods, and come the volley did.

Three men fell—one the leader of the Virginians, whose head dropped forward as he entered the gate and was caught in old Joel's arms. Not another sound came from the woods, but again Dave from the tower saw the cane-brush rustle at the edge of the stockade, and a hand thrust upward with the palm of peace toward the fort, and again the stranger boy emerged—this time with a bloody scalp dangling in his left hand.

In the center of the enclosure the wounded Virginian lay, and when old Jerome stripped the shirt from his breast he shook his head gravely. The wounded man opened his eyes just in time to see and he smiled.

"I know it," he said faintly, and then his eyes caught the boy with the scalp, were fixed steadily and began to widen.

"Who is that boy?" he asked sharply.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS LESSONS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

She was glad to see the visitors. Mother Nature was the oldest fairy in Fairyland, but she looked the youngest. She was quite beautiful, with clear blue eyes, and soft wavy hair and a smile that made you forget there was such a thing as unhappiness or trouble in the world.

She was glad to see the visitors, and set them chairs at once. "We've just started our lessons," she said.

"The flying seeds come up here to Thistle-down Land to learn how and where to grow. I'm calling the roll now to see if there are any absentees."

When everyone was comfortable she went back to her desk and began.

"Sadie Thistle!"

"Present."

"Jimmy Milk-Weed."

"Present."

"Billy, Dick and Charlie Dandelion!"

"Late!"

"That's our fault," explained Billy. "They carried us up here to the sky, so they couldn't hurry."

"Excused," said Mother Nature, marking in her book. "Nanny Plum Thistle!"

"Present!"

"Johnny Cotton Thistle."

"Here!"

"Dan Globe Thistle."

"Present!"

And so it went on. Mother Nature closed her book and began lessons. "Will the thistle-seeds please come up to class."

Nanny, Johnny and Dan went forward.

"Nanny, what is to be your color when you bloom?"

"Red," answered the little seed girl.

"Correct, Johnny, what is yours?"

"White," said the good little Johnny Cotton Thistle.

"And what's yours, Dan?"

"Blue!" said Dan promptly.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

Feel Stiff and Achy After Every Cold?

Do You Have Constant Backache? Feel Old and Lame and Suffer Sharp, Rheumatic Pains? Then Look to Your Kidneys!

DOES every cold, chill or attack of grip leave you worn-out and utterly miserable? Do you feel old and lame, stiff and rheumatic? Does your back ache with a dull, unceasing throb, until it seems you just can't stand it any longer?

Then look to your kidneys? Grip, colds and chills are mighty hard on the kidneys. They fill the blood with poisons and impurities that the kidneys must filter off. The kidneys weakened under this rush of new work become congested and inflamed.

It's little wonder, then, that every cold leaves you with torturing backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities.

But don't worry! Simply realize that your kidneys are overworked at such times and need assistance. Get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and give your weakened kidneys the help they need. Assist them, also, by drinking pure water freely, eating lightly and getting plenty of fresh air and rest. Doan's Kidney Pills have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Lima Folks:

PERRY BLACKBURN, railroad brakeman, 621 N. Jackson St., says: "I had attacks of kidney trouble, when my back ached and became so lame and stiff, I could hardly bend or straighten after bending. I felt dull and tired out and my kidneys were irregular in action, annoying me a lot. Doan's Kidney Pills proved the right remedy for me, as they regulated my kidneys and drove the aches and pains from my back."

MRS. KATE AYERS, 600 N. Union St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills at different times and have always found them a reliable remedy. I had attacks of backache and a rundown, tired feeling, usually brought on by a cold settling on my kidneys. The action of my kidneys wasn't regular, so I used Doan's Kidney Pills for these attacks. They soon brought relief, strengthening my kidneys and relieving the backache."

CHASING DARKNESS

A SENSATIONAL scientific event took place 36 years ago the 20th of this month, when electricity was first used for stage illumination.

This was at a production of "Iolanthe," in the old Bijou theatre, Boston. Thomas A. Edison ran the switchboard.

Twenty-seven years before that, Moses G. Farmer, at Newport, R. I., illumined his house with 42 platinum incandescent electric lights.

It took 27 years for the stage to try out electric illumination in place of the old-time "gas boards."

A similar revolutionary invention, created today, would be adopted overnight.

Our generation, compared with the past ones, is amazing for the speed with which it accepts and adopts new ideas. Each year the salesman with a new device has easier sledding.

LAST year 1,007,000 American homes were wired for electricity.

In the whole country are 21,000,000 homes, 8,000,000 using electric lights.

Ask grandma if she'd care to go back to the candles of pioneer days.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN worked out arithmetic problems by light from an open fireplace, chalking sums on a shovel. In George Washington's day, the night watchman who patrolled the black streets carried an iron lantern, candle light coming thru small holes.

We moderns do not appreciate the tremendous luxury we have in the simple matter of artificial light.

Time was, when man's only dispellers of darkness were the moon and the glare of the campfire.

Toiling by day, man was unable to use his spare night time for freedom of movement, recreation and study, until inventive genius began perfecting artificial illumination.

We have many benefactors in history, but none greater than Edison, Welsbach, Argand, Alfred the Great and the host of others who revealed to us how to turn night into day.

The speed of progress is enough to make one dizzy.

Next thing on the calendar may be canned sunlight.

EXTENDING LIFE

ANOTHER restorer of youth to the aged will come to our country. This one is Professor Eugen Steinbach, famous Viennese biologist.

He doesn't treat his patients with monkey glands, like Doc Voronoff of Paris. The Steinbach way is an operation on glands already in the body. Like turning on the gas by regulating the valve.

Wrinkled Meat, old Chippewa Indian who died the other day at 137 years, would have laughed at such methods. He said his long life was due to his never sitting on a chair or sleeping in a white man's bed. A theory to fit all needs. Take your pick.

312 MILES AN HOUR

HANSCH, a Hollander, claims his latest airplane can travel 312 miles an hour. Across the American continent in 10 hours!

That would carry you thru space a trifle faster than five miles a minute. The ground looks better than ever, to most of us.

Such speed will attract no attention in another 25 years. Airplanes, probably in this century, will travel from New York to San Francisco in 60 minutes. Inventions will prevent the plane's catching fire by fiction with the air.

Hansch says his flying speed isn't of first importance. He claims his new airplane, of the helicopter type, can stand still in the air and rise and descend vertically. Doors of garages soon will be in the roof.

SWEETHEARTS

THE lover who sent the first valentine ranks with the inventor of Santa Claus, among the Great Unknowns of history.

Few men have done as much to make this a joyous world. Surely no one has done more to color life with romance.

No life is worth while unless it attracts and radiates love.

And the valentine is the messenger of Cupid. If you are on the shady side of youth, there are few memories you can look back to, with the thrill and tenderness of the valentines of school days.

Sometimes we wonder what became of those first sweethearts of youth—the shy little lassie in the gingham pinafore, the sweetheart of the old-time sleighride, the romantic love of our late teens and early twenties.

Each did her mighty bit to make us better men. Each helped develop us spiritually for the Only One who came later.

You remember those valentines you sent them? "Them was the days." Looking backward, the valentine days are rosy lanterns in the mists of the pasts.

Those greatest sweethearts, our wives, may be getting gray. But the old-time love is in their hearts. The thrill of a valentine to them is as tense and glamorous as long ago. Tomorrow is Valentine Day, and all sweethearts, white-haired or young, yearn for remembrance—violets, candy, or best of all, an honest-to-goodness valentine.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well
PERFECT DIGESTION

The rate and the comfort of digestion is influenced by the proportions of protein, fat and carbohydrate eaten.

Water passes thru the stomach very quickly. Carbohydrates tend to pass out of the stomach faster than proteins and proteins faster than fats.

Mixtures of protein and carbohydrate go faster than proteins alone, but more slowly than carbohydrates. Mixtures of protein and fat, on the other hand, go slower than either alone.

This retarding effect of fat is an advantage to some, a disadvantage to others. The healthy stomach finishes up its work quickly and often gives its possessor discomfort because of its insistence for more food before meal time.

Such people can eat fat foods that take a longer time to digest, especially if they lead an outdoor life. Less vigorous persons with more sluggish digestions would find fatty foods relieving their digestion. Unduly, hence we consider such foods hard to digest.

Most people can eat large amounts of carbohydrate foods with ease. There are some persons, however, in whose stomachs carbohydrates tend to ferment very easily, usually as a result of bad mastication, insufficiency of gastric acid or poor muscular activity of the stomach.

Such people need to eat less carbohydrate foods than others and should rely more upon proteins and simple forms of fat for their body fuel.

In general, good digestion depends upon:

KEEPING the whole body in good condition by breathing fresh air.

TAKING suitable exercise: CULTRIVATING cheerfulness.

OBSERVING regular meal times and refraining from foods at other times.

AVOIDING food when greatly overwrought or fatigued, or limiting it to simple, warm, fluid foods.

MASTICATING thoroughly so that food never goes down in large lumps.

PAYING some regard to the retarding effect of fat on digestion and avoiding a large amount of very concentrated or irritating foods.

PRESENT PANIC STARTED IN 1914

Editor The Lima News:

The non-political and unbiased article by B. C. Forbes in your columns on February 9th was a source of interest. Especially was it appealing in its non-political and unbiased aspect. It harked back to the bygone days of the non-partisan newspaper. Nowadays one can scarcely see the real issues of the day thru the fog of politics. It is a difficult task for the voter who chooses his course by the dictates of reason, minus political instinct.

Now is a citizen to know the real state of affairs? For instance, the Republican party paper brands article 19th as an internal, ridiculous blunder and hails the "four power peace treaty" as a grand, super masterpiece of statesmanship. The Democratic paper labels the four power peace treaty as an abominable, blundering joke, and lauds article ten as the most brilliant and watchless document in the annals of statecraft. The Socialist Centurion, both documents as rubbish. The Republican remembers the panic of the Grover Cleveland administration, but forgets the panic during the latter part of the Roosevelt administration. The Democrat calls the present panic a Republican panic, and forgets that the present panic is at least seven years old. What political party, if any, is responsible for the present panic? We do not know, nor attempt to blame any party. But we well remember that the present panic first manifested itself during the month of September, 1914. By November it was in full swing, and the army of the unemployed assumed enormous proportions. The laborer looked with home toward spring, but with the coming and going of spring there was no improvement. The shops remained closed, and there was scarcely any public work. The Franco-German war was raging in Europe. Perhaps that was the cause of the industrial depression. At least it was so surprised by some. The outlook grew darker. The nation was threatened with a serious malady—an industrial collapse. Suddenly there was a stimulation. America began to sell ammunition and war material to Europe. Ammunition plants sprang up. The idle shops opened in full blast, manufacturing guns, cannons and all sorts of war machines. Then there was a call to arms. Thousands of men were sent to Europe, and the demand for laborers was larger than the supply. Women and boys were put to work. America became the world's manufacturer and commercial center. The price of labor advanced 100 and 150 per cent; the price of commodities and food advanced 200 and 300 per cent. Money was seemingly plentiful and abundant. America became intoxicated with the narcotic of a stimulated prosperity, and forgot the panic, but the panic was still on, as nothing had been done for it. When the stimulation subsided Uncle Sam staggered and swayed on his feet in a dazed condition. He stared at the old panic that had remained unheeded since 1914, but he did not recognize it.

It was thought that a change of politics would change conditions. Politics did change, but the expected change in conditions has not yet arrived. Plainly, it is not politics nor political views that are needed just now, but sane, non-political, unbiased investigation—and industrial activity.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

By BERTON BRADLEY

DESOLATION
The world's gone to ruin
And in my dejection
The future looks blue in
Most every direction;
Life isn't worth living
And nobody loves me,
There's no one is giving
A darn how fate shoves me.

Existence is dreary,
The thought makes me shiver;
If I weren't so weary
Of verse and of feature,
Chill, damp is the weather,
All joy is forgotten
And, viewed altogether,
The whole game is rotten!

You think I am sharing
The mood and the manner
Of poets despairing
Who wave a wet banner,
Who wax very fearful
Of verse and of feature?
No, truly I'm cheerful,
A light-hearted creature.

But, down in the basement
The steam heat is waning,
And, outside my casement
The chill sleet is raining;
And therefore my curses,
All poets take warning,
You can't write glad verses
At two in the morning!"

DOES IT CATCH YOU —right in the back?

It may be that you are mysteriously attacked by pain in back, (lumbago), or limbs, "neuralgic" pains—shooting anywhere. Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys. Perhaps you have become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack ambition to do things. The latest and most effective means of overcoming such trouble, is to drink plenty of water between meals, and take a single An-unis (anti-uric) Tablet before each meal for a while, or until recovered.

Shredded Wheat With HOT Milk

It brings the ruddy glow of health in Winter and fortifies you against the cold-germs that always get busy in a poorly nourished body. The man who "catches cold" is the man who doesn't know how to eat. Shredded Wheat is rich in tissue-building, heat-making elements—the ideal food for youngsters and grown-ups.

Heat the biscuits in the oven to restore their crispness; pour hot milk over them, adding a little cream and a little salt. Better for children than mushy porridges—ready-cooked and ready-to-serve.

A mixture of one ounce of fine pipe clay, 12 drops of alcohol and turpentine each is an excellent medium for removing stains from broadcloth. In cleaning, moisten only small part of the material at a time, rub on the spot, let it remain until dry and then rub it off with a woolen cloth.

PAINT SPOTS
If you wish to remove a paint stain from a garment saturate the spot with spirits of turpentine, let it remain a few hours and then rub the spot between the hands. The paint will then crumble away without injuring the material.

PITCH
Scrape off all of the pitch that you can, then moisten the spot with sweet oil or lard. Rub it in well and let it remain in a warm place for an hour. If a gross spot remains treat it with chloroform.

WASHING BLANKETS

WASHINGTON PARTY

Sister Mary Suggests Dishes to Serve for It

If you are planning a luncheon or tea to celebrate Washington's birthday these "dainties" may help solve the eternal problem of what to eat.

Hatchets, cherries, and anything that smacks of southern colonial days will keep the spirit of the day in the foreground. Virginia is famous for its wonderful recipes and dishes and an entree or cake or bread made from one of these, served with due honors would be in "character" and solve the what-to-eat difficulty.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

BY WINONA WILCOX

Emotional sprees destroy a good deal of happiness. Like all sprees, they are usually exaggerations of natural conduct. Drunkenness arises in this.

Tears turned to hysteria; a request multiplied to nagging; conscientious objection developed to the quarreling point; these are a few of the emotional sprees in which human beings delight.

Women are supposed to indulge exclusively, as well as excessively, in nagging, hysteria, and martyrdoms. But from confidences made by distressed wives, it appears that some men enjoy emotional tantrums.

"Terrible to say, but I fear I hate my husband," confesses a sad wife. "He never fails to try to make me cry before he goes to work. He can say the meanest things—about nothing at all. I never knew an unkind word from my parents. So I cry easily."

"If I keep my poise, and manage to appear calm when my husband says hard things to me, he will actually turn around and come back after leaving the house, and say something which almost breaks my heart."

"He is a good provider and is esteemed by our neighbors. My own people think we get on well together. I am too proud to tell anyone how he likes to hurt me."

"It sometimes seems to me that if I have to live with him the rest of my life I will lose my mind!" Explaining this gentleman by psychology, it appears that he must have his regular morning emotional spree in order to reassure himself of his own importance. He likes a mental stimulation before he undertakes the day's work.

Can he cure his habit? Of course, if he wants to. Will he? No, as long as he can get the required reaction from his wife—the tears which satisfy his will-to-power, which convinces him that he rules the lady he is supposed to love.

Can she do anything to cure him? Yes! Let her stop her crying! Well might she imitate the wife who wrote this:

"My husband is temperamental, fond of the flattery of women and a born nagger. My heart broke before I had been married a year. As the result of being told that I was 'too meek' I went to work. My business now pays better than his. Time moved on.

"When he said he loved another, I responded, 'Piffle! Isn't it a little late to mention it? Here—hold the baby a while!'"

"The husband doesn't offend me any more. You can't dent a rock, so why try?"

"Our home is substantial, well cared for and no woman dares to meddle with it!"

"I look years younger than I did when I was letting my husband's temperament eat out my heart."

"Oh, how I wish other women, tried in the same way, would become independent, not necessarily financially, but in spirit, cheer and poise."

"That's the sure cure for the husband who tyrannizes."

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: Our marriage eight years ago my husband and I have gotten along very nicely. We have been living with his parents and up until several weeks ago when a disagreeable thing happened, he was very good to me. One night he said he was going out with a crowd of men. I believed him and said for him to go ahead and enjoy himself. My mother-in-law and I went to the movies. There, to my great amazement and horror, I saw my husband with another woman. I am certain he never did such a thing before. When I told him I had seen him, he said for me to get a divorce. I love him and so refused. He said if after I had seen him with this woman and I didn't want to get a divorce, the best thing for him to do would be to pack up and leave town. He did as he said he would. I am miserable. He was all my life. I still love him and I can't get along without him. I know he still cares for me. If he is willing to come back to me I am willing to forgive him and try to be happy with him. Please advise me. What do you think I should do?

JANE MARIE

Y OUR husband's conduct was wrong and most unfair and unjust to you, but since you still care so deeply for him and feel that he loves you, it would be a serious mistake for you to go on with divorce proceedings.

It is possible that the fact that you and your husband have shared the home of his parents may be accountable for this situation. That perhaps, sounds very perplexing and unreasonable but it may be that he did not hesitate to seek his amusement without you because he did not feel you were being neglected when you were not left at home alone, but had his parents for company.

Appeal to your husband again. Very likely he feels that you could never forgive him for what he did. Tell him that you are willing to forgive and forget this time and that your only desire is to make your marriage a success. If at all possible, begin your life anew in a home of your own, even though it may be small and unpretentious. In this way your husband will be given a better opportunity to realize his responsibility toward you and his home.

Dear Miss Smart: (1) Is it proper for a boy to kiss a girl goodnight when asking her to go to a party or dance, after you have known her for several years? (2) When is it proper to kiss a girl?

BILL

(1) Because you have known the girl for several years is not sufficient reason why you should bestow a goodnight kiss. There are doubtless numerous girls whom you have known for several years. Do you think it proper that you should honor them by giving all of them an affectionate farewell kiss? (2) It is proper to kiss a girl when you have told her of your love for her and asked her to become engaged to you.

Dear Miss Smart: Will you please tell me where I can get hold of George and Martha Washington costumes for a Washington's birthday party? Is there a place here or does a person have to send for them somewhere out of Lima?

MRS. Y. W. C. A.

I know of no place in this city where costumes are rented for such occasions. There are many, however, who possess such costumes—from dance or plays, in which they have participated. Perhaps you could purchase one for yourself or even rent one for the party by advertising.

THE DEPTHS

"Listen, dear, let's not take it tragically. After all, there's nothing about it that need upset you so. Miss Rand made Rigaud consider giving me the contract, that's all—a mere act of friendliness, and that's all there is to it."

Polly's miserable eyes looked up from the food she was playing with on her plate.

"And you can tell me that! Why, the instant I came into your office I saw something was worrying you horribly. You never even told me you'd got the order. I only saw the thing by accident in your desk. And now she comes in, with triumph and self-importance, all over her face and offers congratulations! Congratulations to herself for getting you the contract—after I had failed!"

Polly bit her lip and cupped her quivering chin in her hand. "You did not fail, my darling. If you had accepted this heart's attention, I should have called that failure."

"Did Miss Rand accept the contract?" then, to get you the order?"

He was silent a moment. "I don't think so necessarily. It's different with her. She knows—"

"That's it—she knows how, and I don't. She succeeds where I fail. I am not a competent enough wife to help my own husband in his business affairs. She comes along—and helps him in a way he cannot refuse, and flaunts her triumph in my face. Her contempt for me kills me. I hate her—and I hate myself."

"Polly, stop being foolish! You interrupted me. What I was going to say was not that she knew how and you didn't, but that she knew tragically. After all, there's nothing about it that need upset you so. Miss Rand made Rigaud consider giving me the contract, that's all—a mere act of friendliness, and that's all there is to it."

"It's no good Paul. Don't try to make me out anything but what I am—a provincial, prudish, silly little fool who couldn't manage a ticklish situation without flying into a panic. I've realized it ever since that night. I'm not the kind of wife you need. You ought to have a dashing woman who knows the world and all sorts of people—someone who'd be a credit to you—someone like—her!"

"Polly!"

"Oh, I know it. Nothing you can say alters it. I—I never felt smart enough or educated enough or anything enough for you. Even in Lester Falls, it used to come into my heart sometimes, that thought. But I fought it back because I—"

"Then fight it back now. You don't know what you're saying. You're getting hysterical, Polly. I'm surprised you can be so silly."

"That's it—silly, you said it yourself! Paul, I feel completely out of my depth. I want my own kind of people. These clever, worldly Europeans are on my nerves. I want to go, Paul—home to simple things and my own folks. I—I'm going home."

Maybe you've wondered why your parlor palm hasn't just the life it should have. What makes it droop?

Palms need plenty of air at their roots. This is often shut off by the dirt that gathers on the flower pot. Wash the dirt off occasionally. Also stir up the dirt in the top of the pot every week or so. Give little water in cold weather and more in summer. Never allow soil to become sodden.

THE American League has formulated a plan whereby the most valuable player in the organization will receive each year a prize or emblem valued at $1,000.

The idea is an excellent one. It is certain to arouse renewed interest among the players, and will reflect greatly to the benefit of the league.

It is understood the National League thinks as well of the plan that at the coming meeting it will adopt the suggestion that immediately won favor with the American League managers.

The plan of dividing the world series money among the first three teams was a big improvement over the old system, since it gave a great many more players a chance to cut the melon.

It placed a premium on hustling from the start of the season to the finish, thereby providing much better ball. In other days, when a club mathematically had no chance to win a pennant, it eased up.

Under the new conditions a team, after it has lost its chance to win the pennant, still has second or third place to shoot at. Finishing third meant about $800 extra to each player last year. That sum of money at the close of the season is a real incentive to hustle all the way.

The new system of dividing the world series spoils, while the taking care of the teams finishing first, second and third, made no provision for a player on a second division club who stood out as one of the most valuable men in the league.

That is where the new prize of $1,000 is going to do a lot of good. It is going to be an added incentive to the star ball player who is unfortunate enough to be on some weak aggregation.

At the start of every season it is possible to figure some clubs out of the race, almost to a certainty. To the players on such teams there is no hope for them to receive a reward at the close of the season.

The $1,000 prize will be something for every player to shoot at, regardless of where his team finishes. Only on a club that finishes last, some player stands out as the most valuable in the organization.

Just go back to the old days, when Washington had last place in the American League clutched before the season opened. In those days Walter Johnson was the sensation of the American League. He surely would have been picked as the most valuable man at that time.

A commission of newspaper men will make the selection. That makes it certain that no partiality will be shown. There will be one man from each city in the circuit.

Long Games Were Scarce

Extra Inning Contests Exception During Season of 1921

A lively ball and mediocre pitching makes for more hitting, which means larger scores and less extra inning games.

Air-tight pitching makes for light hitting games, which means close scores. Light hitting is certain to furnish more extra inning games than free hitting.

WAS REMARKABLE

The season of 1921 was remarkable in many ways. The lively ball, the mediocre pitching, made for home runs galore, many top-sided scores and few extra inning games.

In a season replete with free hitting, the rosters had little chance to enthrone over extra inning affairs.

Compled with the top-sided scores was the fact that on the whole the teams in the two major leagues were not as evenly matched as in former years.

HAD ADVANTAGE

In the American League last year Cleveland and New York had decided advantage over the rest of the field. The other six clubs were spread out, it being possible to draw line of distinction almost anywhere.

In the National League the Giants and Pirates were the class of the league. Pittsburgh led most of the way, only to falter in the stretch, where it became a test between the two teams.

NOT SURPRISING

With the sharp line of distinction that existed in both leagues, coupled with the other conditions such as poor pitching and a lively ball, it is not surprising that extra inning games were scarce last year.

In the National League the longest game of the season only went 17 innings. In the American League Washington and St. Louis went 19

SIX BASEBALL CLUBS IN WESTERN LEAGUE ARE TO HAVE NEW MANAGERS THIS SEASON

CHICAGO—With the signing of the veteran Gus Fisher as pilot of the Oklahoma City club, all of the managers for Western league clubs have been selected for the 1922 season, according to reports to President A. R. Kearney today. During the winter season, there was a general shake-up of managers and six clubs will take the field under the direction of new leaders. Four of them will make their debut in the Western league.

The new pilots are Joe Dunn, former manager of the Bloomington club of the Three-I league, who will lead the Joplin club; Walter Smith, formerly of the Minneapolis club, who will be in charge at St. Joseph; "Chink" Mattick, the new half owner of the Sioux City club, and Gus Fisher at Oklahoma City, who was obtained from the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league. Mattick formerly played with the Chicago Americans, and later owned and managed the Dallas club of the Texas league.

Jack Lelivelt, who managed the Omaha club at the start of the 1921 race, will direct the play of the Tulsa club this season, while Dick Breen moves from Oklahoma City to the leadership of the Des Moines club. Joe Berger will remain in charge of the pennant winning Wichita club, while Fagen Burch will continue at the helm at Omaha, Burch succeeded Lelivelt when the latter resigned last season.

Lelivelt, a former major league star, distinguished himself last season by establishing the highest batting record of any player in organized baseball. His average was .416. He hit at a tremendous clip all the season.

All of the managers will direct the play from the field instead of the bench. Three of them are catchers and two hold down first base. Breen, Fisher and Dunn are the backstops. Smith and Lelivelt are first basemen. Berger plays shortstop, Mattick the outfield, and Burch is a pitcher.

Fisher's entrance into the league is heralded with satisfaction. He was one of the most popular players on the Portland club, and probably could have remained there until the end of his playing career if he desired, his friends say. He was with the Portland club for eleven years and his batting eye is said to be almost as sharp today as it was when he joined the team.

Fisher, for the last five years has been regarded as the mainstay of the Portland outfit and has developed some promising material for the major league, including such players as Harry Heilmann, Ivan Olson and several others. He possesses the ability to pick young steady players and has been particularly successful in developing pitchers.

The club owners of the Western league will set their house in order for the coming season at a meeting to be held in St. Joseph, Mo., February 20. The schedule will be adopted at that time. The season probably will open about the same time the major leagues pry off the lid and close the latter part of September.

JOHN MILLER, 83, IS AFTER BARNYARD GOLF HONORS

BY BILLY EVANS

THE world series of "barnyard golf" is close at hand. During the week of February 20, the best horseshoe pitchers in the country, "golding 'em," will compete at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Most interesting of all the entrants is John "Hog" Miller of Rock Valley, Ia.

Miller is 83 years of age and feels right, thank you. He has been pitching horseshoes for 25 years. He says there is no reason why he shouldn't be good for 25 more.

Barnyard golf has no stronger booster than John Miller. He maintains that any man of middle age or past, who takes up horseshoe pitching, will never suffer from appendicitis or stomach trouble.

HE FEELS YOUNGER

Miller points to himself as a living example of his theory. He says he feels far better today than he did 50.

Miller gets the "goat" of a lot of players by his slow tactics. He takes a minute at each pitch. He insists he is the dark horse of the field.

The veteran athlete, we must call him an athlete, because Miller insists horseshoes come under that head, has two hobbies. One of them is raising champion Poland China hogs on his 2000-acre ranch in the north. The other is spending the winter at St. Petersburg pitching horseshoes. He says he remembers with the "porkers" and winters with the horseshoes.

FAVORITES FOR THE TITLE

Close followers of the game pick Charley Bobbitt of Lancaster, O., or Frank Jackson, of Kellerton, Ia., to win the title.

Fred Brust, ex-national champion, who makes Columbus, O., his home, hopes to regain the crown.

George May, Akron, Ohio fire fighter, also hopes to stage a comeback. He won the championship in 1919.

PLAY AT NIGHT

No ball player or boxer takes better care of himself than these veterans of the pitching lanes. They rise with the sun and spend the greater part of the day, and after some of the night, pitching horseshoes. Down at St. Petersburg a special string of electric lights have been placed over the pegs, for night competition.

The St. Petersburg tournament will be conducted on five lanes laid out on the floor of a wooden hall with a seating capacity of 5500.

Pegs will be placed at the regulation 40 feet apart. The games will consist of 50 points each. The total number of points scored by the contestants will decide the winner.

Michigan Star Is Praised By 'Hurry-up' Yost

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Although in action only about 12 hours during the 1921 season, Ernest Vick of Toledo, star center, the University of Michigan varsity eleven, won the coveted honor of being selected as All-American center by Walter Camp, coach of the Yale football team.

Vick is a student in the medical school and did not complete his school work until five o'clock each afternoon. Coach Yost's automobile took him to Perry Field every day as soon as he had completed his studies but he always arrived just as the remainder of the squad was leaving the field. With the exception of five hours spent in practice on Saturdays, early in the season Vick was NOT in uniform at any time except during the seven games played by Michigan this year.

WOULD TAKE RUN

Arriving at Perry Field, Vick would run several times about the cinder track and then submit to a vigorous rub down. This constituted his only exercise during the playing season except for that obtained in games.

On a few evenings each week Vick met with Coach Yost and other mentors to receive "skull" practice. New plays were explained to him and he was kept up to date on the team's development.

ALWAYS IN SHAPE

"Vick always is in superb physical condition at each season of the year and this accounts for his ability to make the All-American without practice," Coach Yost said today. "He had received three years of University football training previously being benefited by the S. A. T. C. rule, and he knew the game from start to finish."

Vick played three positions on defensive at various times during the last season, center, loose center, and left tackle. In his four years of varsity play it is said he failed to make a single bad pass. Another distinction he holds is that at NO time during the four years was time taken out for him during a game.

Catcher Great Aid To Hurler, Declares Walt

(BY WALTER JOHNSON)

What help is the catcher to a pitcher?

I am very frank to say that I don't believe the catcher gets anywhere near the credit that is due him.

There is no player on the field who takes a more prominent part in the game than the catcher. Yet of all the players, the catcher probably has the least chance to get into the limelight.

MUST TEAM IT

There is no doubt but that certain pitchers are far more successful working with certain catchers. I have had ample proof of that fact during my career. I have been far more successful with certain catchers catching me than others.

There are of course many reasons that could be advanced for such a condition. In the first place, if a pitcher has confidence in his catcher, and from experience knows that his judgment is of the best, it immediately takes a big load off his mind.

MUST BE BRAINY

The brainy catcher who knows the game and makes a study of his batter is the very best person to select the kind of ball that should be pitched.

If the pitcher is convinced that his catcher is such a type, all he needs to do is pitch, and forget to a large extent, that he must vary his stuff to meet conditions. He lets the catcher be the judge of situations.

There are times when the pitcher takes issue even with the star catcher as to the best ball to pitch. I have occasionally done it, and I am sorry to say, that in a great many cases after pitching according to my notion, I wished I had followed instructions from my catcher.

"Gabby" Street was my first catcher and I never had a better one. There have been times in my career that I have floundered around like a novice with some recruit catching me. Take it from me the catcher is a great help to the pitcher.

Now does the umpire judge a fair or foul ball by the position of the fielder, or the ball and foul line? For example, the left fielder, in going after a fly ball, has both feet inside the foul line on fair territory, when reaching for the ball. His hands are extending over the foul line, and are perhaps six inches in foul territory. He gets his hands on the ball but drops it. Is it a fair or foul ball?

NO attention is ever paid to the position of the player. The hit is judged according to the relative position of the ball and the foul line.

In the play cited the ball was foul. The fact that both of the player's feet were in fair territory when his hands came in contact with the ball is given no consideration. His hands were in foul territory when the ball struck them, making it a foul ball.

200 FANS ON HAND TO WATCH BREAM, BAXTER TRAIN

A crowd of boxing enthusiasts estimated at 200 packed the St. Elma's gymnasium Sunday afternoon when Don Baxter and Babe Bream started training in preparation for their fights at Memorial hall the night of February 28.

George Henson's stable of fighters were on hand and for over two hours the pugs pounded away at each other, with rope skipping and other exercises intermingling.

Tommy Burns, Henson's leading fighter, is on a card in Mansfield tonight.

Bream showed unusual speed Sunday afternoon and Baxter surprised many of the spectators by his different style of handling himself. He fights flat-footed and has developed a wicked left, where once he was considered weak.

HAS THE SPEED

Baxter knows how to get around on his feet better and it will take a lively stepper to beat him. "Dicky" Gandy, the St. Elma's trainer, has taken complete charge of the pair and all work from now until the night of the fight will be under his direction. Gandy is the champion amateur wrestler of the world at 105 pounds.

Workouts will be staged in the gym each evening this week at 8:30 o'clock. The public is invited.

Will Robinson Denies Charge Of 'Tampering'

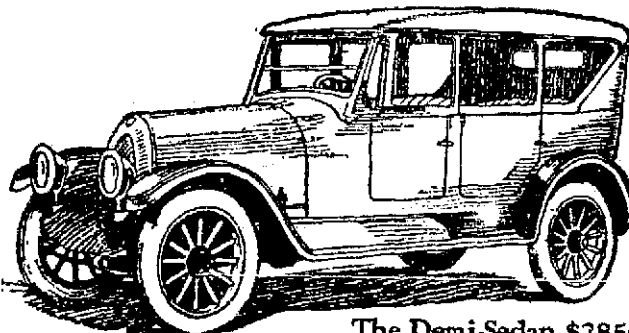

NEW YORK — Charges of "tampering" with other club players recently preferred against the Brooklyn National League club by William F. Baker, president of the Phillies, were answered today by Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Superbas.

In a letter written at Dover Hall, Georgia, and made public by Charles H. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn club, Mr. Robinson admitted that he had sought by direct communication, the services of Shortstop Fletcher of the Phillies. He denied however, that he intended any wrong.

TALKED TO WILHELM

"While at the December meeting of the 'league in New York,' wrote Mr. Robinson, "I mentioned to Wilhelm, the Phillies manager, how badly I needed a shortstop. He thought a minute then said 'write to Fletcher, he doesn't want to play in Philadelphia but might play in Brooklyn.'"

"I told Wilhelm I had no right to talk or write to a player without the consent of his club's president but he told me to go ahead and that he would explain to Mr. Baker." The Brooklyn club announced the signing of two new players — Catcher Bernard Eungling, last year with the Memphis Southern Association club, and Pitcher Robert Wengastner, a free agent, of Birmingham, N. Y.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Ora M. Green stopped a man on the street intending to ask for a match. The stranger seemed to have misjudged his intention. He hurried on, saying, "Here's a nickel. It's all the change I've got."

Fred C. Dorries read the name of a young acquaintance on the program of a concert. "I didn't know he could sing," said Dorries. "He can't," said one who sings with him. "But he doesn't know it."

Newell O'Brien took a girl for a ride in his auto and was greatly embarrassed by the way it seemed to rattle. At last the rattle stopped. "Judging by the broken spring, I found," he says, "I guess someone had tied a tin can to it."

Geographic Puzzles

Peter Unken lives near a young woman who wears high shoes with her gaiters and finds the combination convenient. "When she's late getting started in the morning," he says, "she buckles up her gaiters over her shoes and faces her shoes when she gets to the office."

Glen V. John reports a friend was entertaining a charming girl by singing an 18-page operatic song by Weber. When he was half thru it, she handed him another piece and said with pretty enthusiasm, "Here's a nice song."

Fred Ash encountered two women on Main-st. "One was dressed conservatively," he says. "The other wore short skirts with gaiters and the rest of such get-up. The conservatively dressed one was about 16, and the other about 60."
